From the Editor

Welcome to the Autumn issue of our Church Magazine.

Our magazine is about change!

Kirk Session have agreed to trial a bumper quarterly magazine, with a monthly news bulletin in between if required. The magazines will be issued in March, June, September and December. This means that our next issue will be out at the end of November and will cover December, January and February. We will also be having a two week deadline, rather than a one week one, so the deadline for the next magazine will be close of worship on Sunday, 15th November.

There will be more information about the monthly bulletin in the coming weeks about when it will be issued and what it will include etc., but it will mainly be to keep you up to date with things happening between magazine publications.

Please send any contributions for the Dec/Jan/Feb issue to Nickie in the office by 15th November.

A View from St Kilda

I am delighted that eventually, we have purchased and have begun to use the newest edition of the church hymnary, 'God Welcomes All.'

Over the past few weeks, we have introduced some of these hymns with recognisable tunes but with new lyrics and our choir has been working hard to learn the new tunes so that we can open our worship with our introit, allowing the congregation to listen to them in preparation and then sing them further down the line.

Music has always had the power to inspire strong feelings; it is a key way that congregations participate. Think back to the COVID days – remember eventually being allowed to attend the church and seeing the words of the hymns on the screen but not being allowed to sing them!

Though there was some benefit to actually reading the words and focusing more deeply on them, boy, do we miss singing together: something that Broomhill Hyndland does rather well.

Yes, music can be powerful and moving - think of the longing for peace in 'It's a Long Way to Tipperary', or the Last Post at the Cenotaph or when Stuart plays at our Remembrance Service, Cwm Rhondda at Cardiff Arms Park, or Abide With Me at Wembley Stadium at a Cup Final. Music has the capacity to communicate at a level other than plain speech, to speak to the soul and exalt the spirit.

Psalm 137, immortalised ironically by Boney M, expresses dramatically the heartbreak of musicians in captivity:

'By the waters of Babylon, we sat down and wept... How can we sing the Lord's song in a strange land?' and then that agonized cry, 'Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth if I forget you, O Jerusalem'.

For Christians, there's the wonderful story of hymns both ancient and modern – though in our own day it often feels as though we are singing our Lord's song in a strange land, with the negativity in the press and social media, particularly about the closure of buildings, falling numbers, the lack of youth, the staid and old-fashioned ways that congregation refuse to change.

The new hymns we are singing is an example of what we are trying to do; the re-introduction of the introit and greater support of our choir in worship, as well as the thinking behind the use of a praise band with the talented people we have in our congregation, to say to the youth but not exclusively so, that we can sing different things and in a variety of ways.

Allied to this, is the talent of the Hyndland Secondary school pupils who participate with us later on in the year and the Carol Singing on our paved area outside on Randolph Road, which has been superbly successful with the numbers in three figures.

It is fascinating to me how people keep on singing the great hymns and are able to express the wonder and mystery of God and even the joy of heaven. And of course, at Remembrance, as it approaches and at our Watchnight service, those who come are able to express a yearning of the soul, which we cannot express in speaking, the deeper experiences of life and of memory and of the promises of the eternal.

Paula Pinda, our Heart for Art manager, will tell you about the creativity with hand and heart with those diagnosed but not limited by dementia. We know of the work of music helping us remember, where we were and who we were with.

As Shakespeare once wrote, 'If music be the food of love...play on.'

To sing to our Loving God is a great joy and a privilege.

Your friend and minister,

George

SWEET JESUS

'Who do you say that I am?'

Some say, 'Prophet. Elijah. Moses.'

But you, yes, you, 'Who do you say that I am?'

There is much debate about the topic, simply an itinerant preacher,
a teacher, a man, just a man, or something more.

Lamb or Shepherd?

Saviour or Sinner?

Rabbi or Rabble Rouser?

Or,

Man or God?

God and Man.

The clues are my life, my death, my resurrection.

The clue's on the Cross, brother, sister.

The clue's on the stone that rolled away.

It's marked on me, from head to toe,
on the box so to speak.

AMEN

George

Yes, we know Christmas is still a little way off... but Junior Church is getting organised early for our Congregation to participate!

- No acting experience required
- Fun is definitely guaranteed!

If you would like to take part behind the scenes or centre stage as an angel, or a shepherd, or maybe even a sheep, please speak to a member of the Junior Church
Team on a Sunday and let them know!

It's time for a Macmillan Coffee Morning

Our annual Macmillan coffee morning was held on 24th September and it was lovely to see so many people enjoying the coffee and cakes on offer - at one point it was standing room only! Although at time of printing we don't have a total for the morning, since we began holding the Macmillan coffee mornings in 2016, we have raised over £5000, so thank you to everyone who turned out and dug deep once again to support this very worthy cause.

Belinda and Fridah, two residents in a corner settlement of Nairobi in Kenya have been tackling the poverty and hunger affecting neighbours and children by working with Christian Aid partner 'Beacon of Hope', and growing vegetables to eat and sell. The community is offered small urban allotment plots, seeds, agricultural training and tools. "We are so uplifted, our hope is growing in the midst of hardship."

In southern Lebanon Leila's life and family have had to leave the "special mornings in the village, sitting outside, drinking coffee and listening to the birds singing" as a result of intensive Israeli airstrikes, and have moved to Beirut where her son Ali continues to suffer fear and anxiety. Psychological support has been provided by Christian Aid partner 'Mouvement Social', which also helps displaced families with daily meals, laundry services, hygiene kits and cooking/sewing training.

Rendele, a grandmother in Ethiopia has seen her farm and possessions swept away by sudden devastating floods - also threatening lives - with families now fighting a tide of hunger. With recent local climate change, river flows have become unpredictable, washing away farms, homes and livestock without warning. The results on impoverished communities have been shattering. Support has come from Christian Aid projects run by 'Agri Service Ethiopia' in the form of farm rebuilding, seeds, tools and agricultural training.

In the worst humanitarian crisis of the century, the suffering and displacement of people in Sudan is a human tragedy on an immense scale. James Wani from Christian Aid 'Programme and Partnership' has witnessed "families walking for weeks to escape violence, young women traumatised by abuse, men who have lost their livelihoods and also their dignity and sense of future." A recent Christian Aid 'Sudan Crisis Appeal' raised over £536,000 and local partners have been able - albeit on a relatively small scale - to provide food and water for families, communal shelters and dignity kits for women and girls.

So many ongoing problems in many African countries - and yet small signs of continuing support and progress from agencies like Christian Aid. The continent with the largest number of Christians has undergone substantial change and social/economic development over the last 50 years or more, and yet such considerable and often desperate problems remain, affecting the lives and livelihoods of millions of people. We are fortunate in having a purposeful link with one in Malawi where we can regularly witness the reality of poverty, injustice and suffering and be able to offer direct support.

Patrick Watt, Christian Aid Chief Executive Officer in his latest letter says "Thank you for walking alongside communities with faith, hope and compassion."

The new Chair of Christian Aid in Britain, Thabo Makgoba, who, from a childhood in poverty, became the Archbishop of Cape Town and head of the Anglican Church in southern Africa says "Christian Aid is the gospel with its sleeves rolled up."

We wish the Archbishop well in his new post and I feel we in Broomhill/Hyndland have successfully supported the work of Christian Aid over a long number of years. We are currently rolling up our sleeves for our November Christmas Fayre.

Details to follow.....

At a recent Sunday Service, I was delighted to share a video and pictures from our friend and the Country Director of the Bananabox Plus in Malawi, Willan, and to let our Congregation know how our donations are helping the children and their families. Willan said they appreciate our support so much and our donations are transforming the lives of many young people.

If it is possible to help further, they would be grateful for donations of the following items:

- Used or second hand laptops or computers for use in schools and for vulnerable youths who are selected to go to Uni and do not have the finance to cover these items.
- Old smart phones
- Pens, pencils and other writing materials
- Sewing Machines
- Carpentry/mechanic/electrical tools
- Teaching and learning materials for his wife and the schools.
- Footballs /netballs for the schools
- Sports equipment and jerseys
- School bags
- Children's clothes and toys for Nursery and Kindergarten children.

They are also in need of large cooking pots (jam pots) to help when making meals. Here is mine to show you.

If you can help with any of the above, please speak to myself or William.

Thanks
Ann Henderson

Just a few pictures to show you the children enjoying their new toys, pencils, books and clothes!

A message from Carole!

Judith (Johnston) very kindly outlined my training and career in last month's magazine, except I had worked as a family caseworker and community worker. This gave me very valuable experience of working with children and their families.

I am very sad to step down from working with the Junior and Senior Church groups. I started with the creche in Hyndland Parish Church when children were brought in alone to the creche enabling parents to return to the church service. Forty one years ago I started helping in the Sunday School with Margaret McNaughton, our then Minister Rev John McNaughton's daughter. The group we had were 3-5 year olds, 24 of them. How times have changed.

When Rev John Christie (now the Very Reverend John Christie) came, he changed the format of the Sunday School but not with everyone's approval. Doreen Buchan, Margaret Smith, Rod Dickson and myself became joint leaders and worked very closely together. During that time I worked with an older group from 11/12 - 15/16 year olds. We covered the usual Presbytery 3 yearly guide as to readings etc. Together we wrote newspapers set at the time of the Gospel reading including adverts and letters or wrote plays illustrating the readings. We learned about Jesus and his teaching and its meaning in our lives every day. At one point all the children in Sunday School were filmed by a relative of one of the children in which we told the Easter story. It was a different time then as there were less activities for children to take part in at weekends or during the week so we also did other activities together - bowling, picnics, games in the park.

Boys Club - In addition to the Sunday School I also helped at a Boys Club where we played football and went swimming and also with some time spent in a gym at Hyndland Secondary School. There were four of us involved - Rev John Christie, Stephen (or Steven) Smith, David Moyes (currently Manager of Everton Football Club) and myself. We used Old Station Park by the church (which used to have a tarmacked pitch) for ball activities. I was less involved in playing football but I was the referee! Anniesland college let us use their swimming pool. I was usually the only one in the pool with the boys and I was a shark for the children to chase. Obviously they caught me every time! We could use a gym at Hyndland Secondary School where I think Davey Moyes' brother may have worked. But Rev John Christie also had connections there. We also had a tour round Rangers football club because of Davey's dad.

Rev Fiona Dawson came as an Assistant Minister with her three children. They were gifted musically and we became more involved in music. Greig played the electric organ and we sang more modern tunes and put on sketches involving music and moving in time to the song.

In the summer we went on Sunday School picnics in different parks (e.g. Dawsholm, Balloch, Finlaystone etc). We were usually hunting the answers to clues written by Rev John Christie & playing football which I did do then even in the rain!

We also took children by van to stay for an occasional weekend at the Compass Christian Centre in Glenshee. It offered weekend stays for our group of older children. There was a games room, a sports hall and outside space in beautiful surroundings.

Youth Fellowship - I organised the Youth Fellowship when it was decided that we would start at a younger age - 16. Before then it was for 20/21 year olds plus. We had had talks with St Brides Episcopal Church and four of their youngsters came and joined us. Again all the young people were involved in illustrating the relevance of the Gospel to everyday lives by music, poems, plays, discussion. We also had trips to bowling alleys or the cinema near Christmas. Stuart Murdoch had been involved in the Youth Club with Carys Winship but that stopped and Stuart came and joined us bringing a breath of fresh air and inspiration.

Claire McDougall and her husband John came to stay in Russell House next to the church. She was employed like a church officer but mainly because of her talents with young people and organising children's activities. When Leslie Grieve came to Hyndland as a trainee Minister a group of people met to discuss a KIDS CLUB which subsequently started in the Church Halls. There were different age groups so people became involved usually with an age group. The older young people went to David Cargill House care home, talking to the residents there.

I had by then become a lone parent working full time with a child minder for my son. I would have been lost without the Church and its meaning and activities. It was, I suppose, my anchor or rock and gave me immeasurable support.

Scripture Union weeks - SU Scotland ran Summer Missions and used the Halls at Hyndland Parish church and the Scout hut opposite. The leadership teams were from Scripture Union and used their curriculum and programme which was packed with games, music, drama, crafts and Bible Study. Our team could join in some of the time. Children also joined in from the local community. Children very much enjoyed their time and the SU came about 3 years running I think.

I have kept in touch with many of the young people I knew, some at arms length, some closer. Most now married with families of their own. Very very sadly the church does not figure currently in many of their lives. I am sad about that and wonder what I could have done differently. Today there are so many activities for young people at weekends. Learning languages etc Also birthday parties thrown by their class mates and school sports they have a role in. The Youth Hub/Club is a good start to get young people involved at night during the week in the summer. Board Games Night also brings in young people who can learn from us what being a Christian means by watching us and we can learn from them about the ups and downs of their current lives and also about newer board games which I've never heard of as well as old ones which I have!

Thank you to all of you in the congregation, young and old, and the ministers including our current Minister George for all the kindness and support over the years.

Junior Church

It was lovely to see the children back after the school holidays at the end of August, which seems ages ago now - where did September go?!

We opened our session with a 'Funday Sundae', which the children loved. The highlights were designing and painting ice creams with a shaving foam paint mix, and of course eating large amounts of ice-cream with delicious toppings. So much sugar, fruit, chocolate and loveliness!

We then had our 'Welcome Back' week. The children learned the Makaton sign for 'Welcome' (look out for it in this 'Singing Hands' song.) "GOOD MORNING, GOOD MORNING!" - Singing Hands

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=WSBuOCDLIZs>

We read the story of how Jesus welcomed the little children and how they were so very important to him. For our craft we started making a "Welcome Tree" for our hall.

The following four weeks had a loose theme of 'water' running (excuse the pun!) through them. We had the story of Baby Moses and made little clay baby Moses figures. Isn't it amazing that thousands of years later a small basket crib is still called a "Moses Basket". The power of the Bible on our language.

After Moses we had the story of Jonah and the Whale (check out the fab photos of Liam and Robyn in the whale tent)

Looking ahead we will be having another Fun Sunday on 25th October with a Halloween theme. Crafts, games and Halloween snacks to enjoy. Do please invite all the youngsters in your circle.

Anchor Boys

The new Anchor Boy session is now well underway, with the boys taking part in a varied range of activities at our Friday night meetings.

After an opening night featuring a series of different games, the following week saw us trying our hand at some simple science experiments, learning about how surface tension can affect objects on the water – even the leaders learned that it's possible to power a paper boat using washing up liquid!

Looking after our teeth was the topic the following week, with the boys learning about why good tooth brushing habits are so important, and enjoying a range of tooth-themed games.

Each week since we started, we've welcomed new faces, but there's still room for more newcomers should any other boys wish to join us.

More information is available on our website at 130thglasgow.co.uk or on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram by searching for 130thGlasgowBB.

Anyone looking for more information about joining can also get in touch with me on 07778 133 047.

Junior Section

Junior Section has made a lively start to the new session, with 12 boys attending regularly which includes nine new members.

Our opening weeks have given everyone a chance to get to know one another, share some fun facts and try a variety of new games. Making pizza was a particular highlight – and the boys were equally enthusiastic about eating it!

Boys ready to devour their pizza creations!

We have also enjoyed our first taste of District competition. Our Company hosted the season's opening Junior Section five-a-side football tournament at Scotstoun, bringing together boys from local Companies for an evening of friendly rivalry. Our team showed great teamwork and determination, earning third place and a well-deserved set of bronze medals.

There is plenty more to look forward to as the session gets into full swing and any boy who would like to join us would be made most welcome as we meet on Friday evenings from 6.30pm until 8.00pm.

Gary McQueen

Company Section

Company Section has welcomed boys back for the beginning of the new session with a lot planned over the coming months. The opening couple of weeks have seen the boys taking part in a range of sports and activities.

Early in September, we took on a challenge that uses the What 3 Words app, which divides the globe into three-metre squares and gives each one a random three-word identifier, allowing anyone to quickly pinpoint a location, such as in an emergency.

The boys had the task in teams of visiting a series of locations around Broomhill in the quickest time possible with the help of these three-word identifiers, using a mixture of planning, teamwork, communication and map-reading.

That was followed by the District Five-a-side Football Competition held at Scotstoun Leisure Centre. The Company was well-represented by two teams in the Junior age group, with our older dark blue team going undefeated and taking home the title.

A special mention goes to our younger light blue team who were the only side to take points off the dark blues when they held them to an entertaining 3-3 draw.

Next up, the boys will be visiting the TopGolf driving range in Rutherglen, and we've got plenty more lined up for October and November.

Terrible Television to Peaceful Pilgrimage

As the 'nights are fair drawin' in ,
you sit down to watch something.
You don't know what..., just something!
No matter which channel, which streaming service or which film, nothing fits your mood....until?

There it was... a documentary about seven Celebrities going on a long walk to revitalise, affirm or find their faith.
The trail was from just outside Innsbruck in Austria, to an ancient monastery in Switzerland called Einsiedeln Abbey - centuries old with a black Madonna.

By the way, there was only one recognisable celebrity!

So there I was, with my daughter, on the Pilgrimage, not the full journey!
At the medieval town of Rappersville at the southern end of Lake Zurich, is the longest wooden bridge in Europe, about half a mile across the lake.
What it didn't include was the other two and a half mile path, to the train home!

Indeed it was peaceful looking at calming ducks, moorhens and swans.
It was an experience following the 13th century Pilgrim faithful footsteps and the curious celebrity footsteps of the 21st century.

But, none of these Pilgrims had the joyful company of my daughter!
